basque film series

The Basque Cultural Center's Basque Educational Organization presents the next installment of the Basque Film Series this spring with a special screening of Pelota II, which will be hosted by its director Olatz González Abrisketa. Ms. González will give an introductory presentation and will lead a discussion after the screening. A hosted meet and greet reception will precede the screening at 7:00pm. For more information on this film & to see the trailer, please check www.BasqueEd.org.

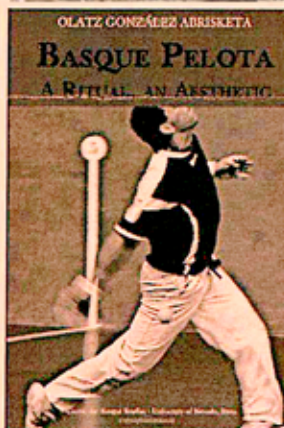

Friday, May 6th, 7:30pm

"The ball is a living being. Each is different from the rest and you have to listen properly to recognize them." Pelota II goes into one of the best kept secrets of this sport: the right selection of balls for every game.

Having as reference Jørgen Leth's documentary "Pelota" (1983); Olatz González Abrisketa aims to bring the aesthetics of Leth to the radical nature of ethnographic detail, making the final film about what it is considered the classic ritual of Basque culture.

Olatz González Abrisketa is also the author of Basque Pelota: A Ritual, An Aesthetic, which will be available at this event.

2015, directed by Jørgen Leth & Olatz González Abrisketa, 71 minutes, color, in Euskara with English Subtitles.
